

Patrick Shaughnessy

Patrick Shaughnessy is a budget analyst for the Pennsylvania House Appropriations Committee working on pension and other retirement issues. He has worked in Pennsylvania state government for more than ten years, including five years at the Pennsylvania Treasury Department during which time pension issues were among his responsibilities.

Mr. Shaughnessy received his Master of Arts and Bachelor of Arts degrees in economics from Boston University.